

Please pick a number ...

If you have the number one... stand up

You may...

Is this fair?

Should we base a class on a numbering system where those who draw the number one have special privileges?

Has something like this ever happened in history?
What are some events in history that a small number of people are in charge of a larger group and treat them unfair?

South Africa - Apartheid

Apartheid - system in South Africa that made it illegal for different races (blacks and whites) to mix.

Apartheid is a word from the Afrikaans language - which is a mix of European and African tribal languages.

How do you think Apartheid was developed?

The madness of apartheid: segregated toilets, but blacks would be the ones to clean the facilities.

Many African protesters of Apartheid would be arrested and sent to prison.

Why were they arrested?

One of those arrested was Nelson Mandela.

While in prison for almost 30 years, Nelson Mandela still encouraged resistance to apartheid through his writings and many followers.

Once released, Nelson Mandela set off on a path for equal rights.

Nelson Mandela used nonviolence to achieve equality in Africa.

Where have we seen this before?
